Offerings in Wall Street Comparatively Scarce When Stocks Were Wanted.

GENUINE DEMAND LIGHT

SMELTERS THE WEAK POINT IN THE MARKET.

New York, Feb. 13.-The early stock market today presented graphic evidence that an important proportion of the conspicuous seiling which carried prices downwards on Morday and again in the closing dealings on Tuesday must have been rather reckless operations on the short side of the market. When those sellers felt impelled to cover their contracts today they found a scarcity of stocks offering and a rather mercurial upshot of prices resulted. Almost equally striking was the relaxed tone of the market when the needs of the uncovered bears had been satisfied. The inference pointed to is that while the genuine demand for stocks for the present is light, the supply offering in liquidation is scanty. At occasional intervals there of loans in connection with adjustment of banking affairs holding over from the troubled period of last fall. With this exception there does not appear any important selling such as would suggest a general inclination amongst owners to reduce their holdings of

Very positive assertions on Monday that the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific dividends would be reduced accompanied the free selling of those stocks. The declaration of dividends on these stocks today at unchanged rates accordingly caught an important short interest uncovered, and they dency. The coalers also were conspicuous. Not a great deal of activity characterized the rise and the subsequent sag was preceded by a period of hesitation and duliness. Unsettling factors were the pressure on American Smelting and violent breaks in several of the Gould stocks with no apparent support. Speculative operations in were foremost in the advancing tensupport. Speculative operations in American Smelting are large at all times and the motives difficult to trace, but importance was attached to reports today of the retirement of a conspicuous engineer from the service of the controlling interests in this company. The weakness of the Gould pany. The weakness of the Gould stocks caused the revival of former preports of projects for new financing

Stock caused the revival of former reports of projects for new financing by those companies.

The day's developments bearing on the general situation were not important. Reports of some additional mill resumptions also were made a feature. A fall in the price of copper, both here and in London, was an incident of the day that did not conduce to holding prices of securities. There were operations in the outside market today in the New York City "when and as issued" bonds at quotations ranging from 104% to 104%, which is higher than the average price which bond experts expect to see the bonds sell for. A marked stimulation on investment demand in general, it is believed. Will depend on a figure for the New York City bonds higher than 103. That the bonds will be abundantly subscribed for is taken for granted, but more attention is being paid to the price they will bring. There was no revival of strength in the later stock market. Bonds were irregular. Total sales par value $2,002,000.

CAMP OF ELY HAS RAWHIDE FEVER

Ely, Neb., Feb. 13.—The local Rawhide fever is fast causing the depopulation of this section, so far as idle men are concerned. every man who is not working, and many who are determining to "size up" the new camp for himself, to see "just what there is to it." The first local interest to launch a company in the new gold camp is the Rawhide-Oro Mining company, a corporation composed of George M. Nix, a New York capitalist, Pheby brothers and associates. The stock of this concern was listed on the local mining stock exchange yesterday, 50,000 business on change yesterday, but the volume of business done was not large. Prices are hanging around the same mark they have clung to for several days and if there is a tendency in any direction, it cannot be said that it is up. The eastern markets are not improving at all and the probabilities are that the local stocks will act more or less in sympathy with what may be doing in the east. There is absolutely nothing doing that would tend to give the market a boost.

During the market a boost.

During the two regular and open board calls yesterday a total of 59,736 shares of stock, with a selling value of $25,079.57, changed hands. Following is the list of final quotations and record of sales made Forenoon. || Afternoon.
